Sponsorship provides businesses with sustained visibility and direct engagement with a cohort of emerging and established leaders throughout the six-month program. Sponsors are recognized as participants move through interactive workshops focused on values-based leadership, trust-building, communication, and conflict resolution, and as they complete a Community Action Project addressing real challenges facing local organizations. Many sponsorship levels include opportunities for direct interaction with the class, allowing businesses to share insight, build relationships, and reinforce their commitment to leadership development while strengthening talent and capacity within their own organizations.
